

Manual

Step 1: Enter the dimensions for your desired configuration.

Step 2: Set the material and color.

Step 3: Select the desired modules from the menu on the left and drag them to the right onto the front panel. Start with the IP Video Door Station. The black dots represent the constructively possible insertion points.

Step 4: When you are done, you can save your configuration. You will receive an email with the technical drawing and a project number, with which you can recall your configuration at any time. You can also proceed directly to the store and order the configured DoorBird there.

Hint:

It is possible under certain conditions that you cannot configure the same dimensions as those of our standard products in the webshop. This is due to a different mounting technique of the front panel on the back housing.
